

ALAGAPPA UNIVERSITY, KARAİKUDI SCHOOL OF MATHEMATICS

The School of Mathematics (Department of Mathematics & Ramanujan Centre for Higher Mathematics) has celebrated the National Mathematics Day to pay tribute to the Legendary Indian Mathematician Shri. Srinivasa Ramanujan Birth Anniversary on December 22nd, 2020. Prof. N. Rajendran, Vice Chancellor of Alagappa University, Karaikudi inaugurates the function via online. In his presidential address, he said that every year on 22nd December has been celebrated as a National Mathematics Day. In his brief speech, he shared the history of great Indian Mathematician Srinivasa Ramanujan and his family backgrounds and education. Also, he mentioned the struggle met by Ramanujan at Cambridge, England. Also, he readout the famous letter written by Ramanujan to Prof. Hardy, Cambridge University, London during 1913 and narrated the journey travelled by Ramanujan throughout in England with Prof. Hardy. Further, he suggested a note to all young researchers to inspire the research work done by Ramanujan and to concentrate to work on problems of Ramanujan to form a sphere to the Mathematics community. Prof. Ravi P. Agarwal a renowned and well-known mathematician from Department of Mathematics, Texas A & M University, Kingsville, USA delivers a special lecture on “Are we Prepared to Accept the Reality”. He shared the things about Ramanujan such as his family, education and the way he lived in India and say few things about Ramanujan after his death. Also, he gave a quote about Ramanujan that “God send him to the World to do certain things and after the completion of those works god taken him away”.
